PROFIT

I, Quaw, the Ultra Energy of the Universal All That Is, am with you on this day and in this mode of communication to share some intricacies in your life that perhaps you had not considered previously. Intricacies is a word that describes a quality or two or three within you as a physical being and an energy being. It is within you and therefore is yours, and you do not share them with anyone else perse. Thank you indeed.

An intricate thought is one that is detailed and within you and that one little part of you is changing you on a daily basis in how you think and feel. That is equality. It does not matter if we speak of your leg, your heart or your nose, they are all equal energy-wise. That is a fact and not one that we could prove to you physically, but you will have a fair understanding of it soon in the commonsense portion of you and your life. Thank you indeed.

Intricacy indicates it is important and it is a small item that you add to all that you do with your day-to-day living and breathing. What is intricate within you, in your opinion? Your heart because it beats and you know you are alive? Or is it your breath, because that is the only item that you have that depicts you being alive or not? Or maybe it is your skin, because it adds and subtracts from your body on a daily basis. They are all important of course, but what I would like to share on this day is that you have a portion of yourself that you share with others and share with yourself and you are the one that is able to say whether you profit from it or not. Thank you indeed.

So, put those two words together – profit and intricate – and what do you achieve? Well, it is the concept of how much you believe you are worth to yourself. How much do you profit from being on earth at this timing? How much do you profit in the concepts of what you have learnt today in comparison to yesterday. Did you lose or achieve today? Did you desire something and make certain you achieved it, or did you hear your own thoughts and make certain they were implemented? That is the key.

Your thoughts are your intricacies, and you will profit from them when you listen to them and achieve what they are asking of you. It is time of change on earth. It is the timing to learn more about what you want to achieve in your day-to-day life, what you wish to learn in this lifetime and of course what you would enjoy in the days and nights of nature and all that surrounds wherever you are. You are in the correct space on earth right now to become more of you and more in the understanding of you. You are the correct age to understand that age is not necessary for achieving the usage of your thoughts. You are the correct physical size and gender for what you have decided is best to learn about right now. In order to profit in your life, your thoughts are required to be positive for you personally to achieve the results you want, but you need to listen to them and fulfill them in order to understand more of who you are. It is exciting when you do so, because it is just like a speck of life has been added to you on this day. Thank you indeed and good day.
