

#77-0003-Earth
Learning about Love

I, Mother Nature, am with you on this day and in this mode of communication, in order to assist you to understand yourself just a little better while you are living on earth and yet a universal being.

In the early moments of earth, it was discovered that the earth would be an education facility for all souls who wished to experience their energy level at a lower vibrational rate and learn to adjust their rates according to how they were handling their emotions. It is best to recognize that when you are a soul in your energy body, there is a higher vibrational rate and no feelings that have been created into emotions. Only the feeling of love exists when you are being your energy self.

So, the concept was that individual souls could create a life plan for when they were on earth. It seems complicated when we describe all the intricacies of the storylines of people, but it works well with the energy flow of the universe, the energy flow of the earth and the energy flow of your personal being, coming together to honour what you wish to learn and who you require in your life to make it happen. Energy is in absolutely everything, even though it might not be recognized with your five senses.

Along the timing of the earth's existence, many souls have returned for another lifetime on earth, to work on what was neglected in the previous lifetime. People on earth entitle it Reincarnation, which means that each time you came to earth, you were incarnated or assumed another physical body. Thank you indeed.

The first time you arrived on earth, you were allowing yourself a new experience. You were fresh and instantly recognized it as a huge experience or education. That is a fact. However, emotions as you entitle them are quite solid within you now. That means you have had several lifetimes – could be more than a million and is definitely more than a thousand. Every person on earth at this timing has had more than a thousand lifetimes. Each time, you have had a physical body that would be variant in size, colour, shape, with varying abilities to be found and displayed and you have always chosen whether you were male or female. In addition, of course your 'status' in life altered each timing. If you were rich in one lifetime, you were poor in another. If you were very healthy in one life, you suffered in your health in another.

In the universal energy body, there is purer energy than on earth. On earth, the energy is separated into positive or negative aspects. That means varying vibrational rates. The negative energy is when you or someone else and their thoughts, words and actions are causing damage to themselves or others on earth – whether it be other humans, forms of trees, plants, creatures, the earth, the water or the air. Damage to anything on earth, or hurt on all of the earth, is placed in the negative aspects of energy flow. That is a fact. So, what has taken place over time is that humans are more active in the negative portions of energy and that negativity is destroying the earth's educational facility. There are many examples that can be provided to you.

However, look at it in this mode – If you have 100% of the earth in the positive, there would be no balance for the earth to stay where it is placed in the universe. It needs balanced energy in order to function as an educational place. Thank you indeed.

The negative and positive need to be balanced. That is so the earth is able to hold its own as it rotates and you are able to live on earth. You can still walk on the earth, fill your lungs with air and know that water is available for you in all areas of your life where it is required. The balance allows the sun to shine through the day, and the moon is able to guide you at night. All of that really depends on the balance of the energy of the earth, because in its rotation, it meets and greets the sun and moon at the correct timings.

Now, approximately 200 years ago, the earth started to feel a little unbalanced. The negatives or hurt towards everything on earth had taken the lead. It happens to humans along their path when they want a bit of vengeance, or perhaps taking all they have on earth for granted, or with a disregard to what the Earth is providing to humans along the way. In addition, humans decided they were the masters of the earth and therefore they individually decided what was best and went about dealing with their lives as a display or acknowledgment of who they were and why and how and when and where. And, the next step of course, was for others to place their viewpoints and their vengeance when they returned to earth the next timing they chose.

In the meantime, people who wanted to learn about love, soon found out that most people think of love as a physical aspect or emotion that is for people, things and some creatures. But that meant that they also believed in a form of hate. Think of it as changing the negative and positive to love and hate. Synonymous? No, it is not. Love is an emotion but it has been destroyed by humans, just as the world has been destroyed by humans.

Love is energy that is pure and good and reliable and is flowing. That is the definition of love. Love just for the physical, discounts all of the goodness that love has to offer. Thank you indeed. Love and sex are synonymous on earth as well. Once again, the reproductive organs have been abused and used and taken for granted, perhaps as a form of “release”, perhaps as a symbol of bullying, and definitely in the area of power over other people. All of these are negative. If you want love in your life and it comes with possible sexual aspects, it must be with the concept of respect – completed in a loving manner, with a focus on health, healing and with feelings that reveal positivity in all aspects.

Unfortunately, what is happening is that the reproductive portions of yourself are starting to repel what is happening. Have you noticed that? A lot of challenges for humans regarding their reproductive portions of their bodies? Do you still have all your parts? Do you still have healthy feelings? Do you still have the wherewithal to feel that ‘love of the earth and the air and the water’, with your forms of ‘love’? Or are they all bundled up in the physical only?

Expressing yourself with words is one way of meeting and greeting others and as you are aware, this could be negative or positive in your perspective. But our goal should not be to damage anyone at any timing, whether physical, mental or emotional bodies are being chatted about. How are you doing in that aspect?

My concept is to let you understand energy just a little better in the mode of your life at this moment in timing. If you could see the energy, you would believe, but it is not possible with your five senses right now, unless you are in the high positive side or more balanced in your vibrational rate itself. As you progress in changing or altering your thoughts so they are more open to newness, the senses will remain about the same, which are clouded by your perspectives about the world itself.

So your perspective of the world means that it affects and effects the energy level of your world and if your perspectives are not respectful to all on earth at this timing, it needs to open up to a more balanced energy level itself. It is very helpful to you to look at your thoughts, words and actions and ask if they are harmful to anything on earth and then when you discover that some aspects need an update, then you are able to become more balanced. We will continue in this theme of understanding your personal energy the next time.

Here is something to think about until that happens. You are energy in a three-dimensional way and your personal energy via your thoughts, words and actions dictate whether you are respecting yourself and others and honouring the love you have of yourself. Now is the timing to change what you think of yourself, what you think of your possibilities of understanding yourself better, and definitely in learning about the 'love' of the earth itself and energy as a whole.

Thank you indeed and good day.
