

#77-0012-Earth
Finding beauty within!

I, Mother Nature, am with you on this day and in this way, to honour your concepts of yourself, respect your position in nature on the earth and in this world, and to re-organize your belief concepts of what was, what is and what will be. An interesting journey, for sure.

On your way to discovery of yourself, not just as a human being, but also a discovery of yourself as an energy being, you are learning via your feelings and in a dense atmosphere energy-wise. That choice has honoured your desire for information about energy and therefore you decided to come to earth to learn about you as a female or male; to learn about you as a member of society in a country of your choice; to learn about a bit about love and a bit about fear, and a traditional concept of what was, and now society has improved. That is a fact.

However, it seems to me that you are looking for ways to live life a little easier in the realms of finances, instead of looking at how relaxed and energized your body is, how positive your thoughts are, and of course whether you are completely clear about your abilities and how you are able to place them in your day to day schedule. Are you the one that recognizes that you are on earth to learn about yourself?

Yes, you are busy, but busy with what? Searching for some magic or miracle to make life easier, maybe? If so, it is not all that you have been learning about – perhaps learning about others and their ‘famous’ name and financial position, or maybe learning whatever the government officials want of your attention. Are you busy with the negatives of the world via the news, and on and on the list could go. A form of enticement for newness at all times – food, clothes, home designs and the utmost of how to become rich and famous yourself. All of which costs you respect or non-respect for others, dependent upon your personal perspectives of what life is supposed to be about.

Just as a hint – your life on earth is for you to learn about you as an energy being, and how to rid of the nonsense that is within you that needs to be let loose, and the beauty within you that is seeking ways in which to emerge. Beauty that is within is not the same as is described via your society. The beauty that is always within needs to be respected and honoured by yourself and others.

What is beauty? Beauty is feeling comfortable in your physical body. Comfortable words and thoughts coming to you, so you are able to accomplish learning just a little more in life about yourself. Beauty is in the relationships you have with forms of nature – whether they be trees, plants or flowers, or maybe the creatures that are within the area in which you live, or maybe it is the understanding of how important the sky is to you, via the sun, moon, clouds and stars. Beauty is in the water that you are able to drink, that you are able to shower or bathe in and of course water that allows you to swim or boat, as well as learn about what beauty lives within the bodies of water on earth. Beauty is in your spoken words, and of course it is in the food that you indulge in that will provide the beauty that is necessary to be healthy in all modes.

Some of this is common sense, some of it might be a new belief system about your place on earth and some will be about your concepts of energy flow itself. Earth energy flows clockwise and therefore, when it circles the world, it flows from the east to the south, to the west and to the north and then back in the east. It does so on many levels. Levels that you do not really think about on a conscious basis but look at it this way. There is the energy of the earth connecting everyone in the world as you know it, on a level that means the earth itself is radiating to all continents in the world. Remember, from the east, south, west and north and back to the east. That energy level knows what is being done detrimentally to the earth and what is being done to honour the earth and respect it.

Next you have the energies travelling through the countries themselves. A different level of energy of course but taking the same root energy flow, east, south, west and north and back east. That energy is picking up their forms of benefit and detriment and sometimes the people were understanding what was happening and sometimes not, but it is people who are creating the energy on the government type of level, along with the nature concepts that are doing their best to maintain a flow concept throughout the country itself. Nature will discover what is flowing and what is not and that is when you will have some challenges perhaps in the weather especially, but with people clashing as well.

Then you have the energy flow of each city or township. Slightly smaller of course than the countries themselves, but similar in the energy conduction of the flow itself. It will include all the businesses in that location as well. Nature is with you in this level of energy flow.

Remember, the basis of the earth energy. The highest level of strength of the energy flow, has the water, soil and air to assist, along with the rocks, whether they are mountains, the hills and the smaller rocks that you see everywhere. In that fashion, you have the basics of nature in creatures of course, that are there for you to note, but you do not come across their personal energy flow very often.

After the cities and townships, you find another energy level within neighbourhoods where energy levels flow according to the belief systems of the people in that area. It could be according to the storylines as well, if you think of the storylines in the realm of monetary criteria. But belief systems are the key in this area.

Next, there is another criteria for energy flow and that is in the homes of the people, who live in the neighbourhoods, live in the cities or townships, live in a country, or life on earth. That energy flow is now dependent upon your personal energy flow, which is triggered by your belief systems, your story line, your desires and your wishes and whether you are feeling honoured with your physical presence in the world and you are willing to provide respect for all that is in your world. Thank you indeed.

Many levels of energy flow and now that the earth is increasing the vibrational rate, it is affecting the earth itself, the countries, the cities and townships, and the neighbourhoods, with you within it. That means all are changing.

How are you doing or coping with the changes that are taking place? That is the question for you today. Thank you indeed and good day.
