#99-WHAT-P-010
Saturday, August 22, 2026

PARCHMENT

I, Quaw, the Ultra Energy of the Universal All That Is, am with you on this day and in this mode of communication in order to bring you some interesting ideas or perhaps a bit of confusion, as to what is important in your life and what is just controlling you in some fashions. Thank you indeed.

When you were deciding to come to earth to have a lifetime learning about something of interest, you needed to create a story. That story was created on Parchment. As you might understand, when you are creating something that is quite important to you, it is made certain that the written portions you are projecting are placed on quality paper, so it is able to preserve itself nicely for a given time period. Parchment paper is noted as the epitome of paper. So, when we speak of parchment, we will be chatting about the story you wrote on behalf of yourself and what you were wishing to learn in the lifetime of your choice.

A story – what does that mean to you really? Everything is taken into consideration – the people, places and things and the timing of each in your life. There are no emotional entanglements while you are a soul in every form. Emotions are for the human body only. Thank you indeed. So, when you begin your decision-making about a lifetime, the timing is very important as to the happenings in the world and how the people are reacting to it. The second aspect is choosing who will be in your life – your mother and father are the first two chosen. Now, that is decided in two fashions really. The mother must be able to carry you in her body for the proper length of 'timing' and that will decide how you are functioning with your 'time' in your life. The second aspect for the mother is the timing she will be with you in your life and therefore, how much you are going to be educated as a person yourself. The more love and attention you receive, the more you will understand yourself as well. But remember, you choose her when you have no emotional interruptions and that is a fact. You are gazing at the energy flow that is required for what you want to learn about yourself.

The next is choosing the father. The father is more than a sperm donor and that is very important to understand. Whether he has a physical presence or not, the energy found in the sperm is essential for you to recognize more of 'who' you are in life – not just your gender or your name, but your ideas of who you are and how you are coping on a day-to-day basis. So, a small number of sperm affects your entire life on earth. It is all on the parchment, and you have chosen the parents now and the timing of being conceived and your birth. That is the beginning of your storyline. Interesting? Yes, it is. Do you believe it? I trust so, because you are an energy being that is able to write a script that is perfect for what you want to learn. It might seem hard or simple, but it is the truth. Energy is the truth. You are capable of the truth.

Thank you indeed and good day.